Wednesday's stock market fell considerably short of general expectations so far as activity was concerned. The tone of the speculation, however, was unmistakably strong. There was a renewal of interest in American securities by foreign dealers, giving some confirmation of the current suggestions that the visit of Mr. Morgan to London will be favorably reflected in this The early dealings were characterized by a certain amount of snap, but after the first rush of buying orders was executed, the market yielded on realizing sales, and the temporarily unfavorable effect of an advance in posted rates of exchange of a half cent. Tobacco, ex-2 per cent. cash and 20 per cent. scrips dividends, opened at 71, against 84, the final figure of Tuesday. Subsequently decided heaviness was noted and a recession occurred to 68. Burglars broke into Ellerkamp's saloon, near the corner of Prospect and Spruc streets, Wednesday night. They carried of a haif dozen bottles of whisky, a lot of cigars and $8 in cash. The latter raised the window and looked out. He saw two men working at the back door of the store and called to "Get back in there, or we'll fill you full o ad," cried one of the men, and the window went down with a bang. An instant later a stone crashed through the window. The thieves then left. WHEAT

KILLING FROSTS REPORTED WEST STRENGTHENED PRICES.

Firmness in the Leading Cereal Inflaenced Other Markets, Including Provisions.

CHICAGO, April 15 .- Killing frosts reported from California and cold wave predictions for the Dakotas and Minnesota strengthened wheat to-day so that May closed at 654c, or 4c over yesterday's closing price, Corn, oats and provisions were all slightly benefited by the half-cent improvement in

The wheat market ruled rather quiet and inactive at times, the range being ic. The feeling developed was a little mixed and the course of prices rather uncertain. The opening was firm at 1/4c advance, and, after selling up to a fraction more, eased off %@%c, rallied 1c, changed some and closed firm. The early strength was attributable to the frosts reported on the weather map in California and the steady tone of cables, both English and continental. There was also some buying by brokers, supposed to be acting for Pardridge, who is reported very ill, and this added some to the firmness. The advance was met with free selling of July by houses acting for elevator interests, and prices receded. Northwestern receipts were large, and private advices reported good weather in that section, with seeding going on rapidly. The weather crop bulletins were generally more favorable in the winter wheat districts, but up in the Northwest the past week was said to be cold and wet, and spring work delayed in consequence. The market had a second rally on the prediction of the signal service of colder conditions for the Dakotas and Minnesota, with rain and snow. The trade, however, became dull, and the absence of any outside business of con-sequence made the advance difficult to main-

The corn market was firm and averaged higher than the closing rate of the day be-fore. The opening price for May was un-changed, at 30%c, and it soon rose to 30%@ 30%c for July. Pardridge's brokers bought in considerable short corn. His buying was taken by some brokers as the signal that a free field for short selling on the advance was open, and they forced the price down to 30@30%c. At the decline New York sent buyorders, which, along with the firmness 450 in wheat, carried corn up again to 30%@30%c

A moderately active market was reported for oats. The range was confined to 1/3c for May and 1/4@1/4c for July.

Prices of provisions did not move very far from the point they closed at yesterday and at the close pork and lard were 2% lower for the day and ribs about half as much higher. The large receipts of hogs at the yards started the market with a downward inclination, and under the influence of the closing strength in wheat it became Estimated receipts to-morrow-Wheat, 20 cars; corn, 170 cars; oats, 190 cars; hogs, 27,000 head.

PLAYERS JUST TIRED

CEICAGO-INDIANAPOLIS GAME VERY LISTLESS AFFAIR.

Monroe Largely a Victim of Tough Luck-Chiengo Won by an

There wasn't much life to yesterday's game. It was a listless sort of an affair all through, and everybody, spectators as well as players, appeared to have "that tired feeling" which a certain well-known patent medicine is warranted to cure. A few cases yesterday out at the ball park. It is not at all surprising that the crowd was lifeless, fly which Connor misjudged in the second inning that is responsible for that solitary earned run. White played a shaky game at short, and his two errors cost just four of the eight runs scored by Anson's men. Stewart's miss of an easy grounder in the eighth was responsible for two runs. When all this is borne in mind it can readily be seen that Monroe pitched good ball in the face of discouraging support. He kept the hits well scattered, sent only one man to base on balls and hit two, one of whom-Tim Donahue—purposely got in front of the ball.

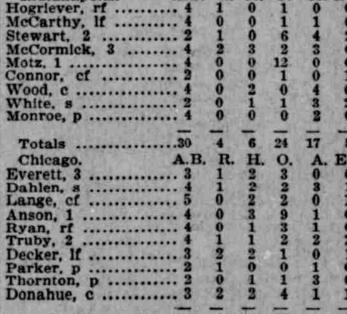

The one brilliant feature of the game was an unassisted double play by Motz in the fourth inning, when he caught Dahlen's line drive and doubled Everett, who had started for second. McCormick and Wood played good ball and did most of the hitting, the former getting three and the latter two of the six Indianapolis hits. Wood caught an errorless game, and his good throwing to second cut off four of the Colts at that bag. They had much trouble stealing on him. A clever double play by McCormick, Stewart and Motz and a couple by the Colts were The champions started away at a fast clip, Hogriever getting first on balls, stealing second, assisted by Donahue's low throw, reaching third on Decker's must of Stewart's fly and coming home on Truby's high throw to the plate to head him off. McCarthy had previously flown out to Decker. Stewart got safely to second during all this. Motz lifted a short fly to right, which Truby managed to reach with one hand—a circus catch, and one which surprised Truby as much as it did everyone else. McCormick drove a beauty to right for a base and Stewart scored. Dahlen caught Connor's hot liner and retired the side.

Monroe hit Everett and sent Dahlen to base on balls. Then Hogriever failed to locate Lange's fly, because of the sun being in his eyes, and Everett scored. Anson hit to Stewart and there was a nice chance for to Stewart and there was a nice chance for a double, but White dropped the throw, Dahlen coming home. Ryan's grounder to McCormick resulted in a double play and Truby was out from McCormick to Motz. Wood started the second nicely with a single, but foolishly tried to make two bases on White's sacrifice and was easily caught at third. Monroe struck out. Decker hit up a fly that Connor could have caught had he stood still, but he misjudged it, running in and letting the ball go just over his head. His mistake landed Decker on second. Then Stewart let Thornton's grounder get away from him and Donahue stuck his arm in front of one of Monroe's slow balls and front of one of Monroe's slow balls and trotted to first. With the bases filled Everett hit to left, scoring Decker, but Thornton was caught at third. Everett tried to steal second, but was caught. Dahlen hit to left for a base and Donahue came home. Dahlen stole second, but Lange's grounder to White retired the side. Anson started the Chicago third with a single, but was easily nailed on a steal. Ryan flew to Connor and Truby hit an easy one to White, which should have ended the inning. A wild throw to first, however, spoiled matters, and singles by Decker and Thornton, the latter's a scratch bound over Stewart's head, together with Connor's fumble, yielded two more runs. Donahue flew to Stewart.

McCormick's single, Dahlen's wild throw, Connor's sacrifice and Truby's fumble of Wood's grounder gave Indianapolis a run in a base and Donahue came home. Dahlen Wood's grounder gave Indianapolis a run in the fourth. Another was added in the sixth by Lange's must of McCormick's fly, after a hard run, another sacrifice by Connor and Wood's fine single to right-center. White hit safely, but Morroe flew to Donahue and Hogriever forced White at second. During the five innings Thornton pitched Indianapolis got three hits, and when Parker took the left-hander's place everybody looked for some stick work, as he had been batted hard when here with Grand Rapids. Three hits in four innings was the best the champions could do with him, however. Those last two Chicago runs were made in the eighth, and were also a gift. With one out Parker hit an easy one which Stewart let roll between his feet. Then Donahue got a single, Everett a sacrifice, which should have been the last out, and Dahlen a single, two runs resulting. Lange hit to McCormick and forced Dahlen at second. Catchers Kittredge, of Chicago, and Buckley, of Indianapolis, umpired the game satisfactorily and nearly fifteen hundred people witnessed it.

L. A. W. RACING CIRCUIT.

Evansville's Date Fixed for Aug. 5-The Senson to Open May 1. PHILADELPHIA, April 15. - Chairman Gideon, of the L. A. W. racing board, has ompleted the dates for the national racing circuit. The circuit opens May 1 at Oakland, Cal., and closes at Washington, Oct. 17. Louisville gets from Aug. 10 to 15, and Springfield, Mass., Sept. I to 3. The list is all surprising that the crowd was lifeless, for there was nothing over which to enthuse. The score shows that Monroe was hit safely sixteen times, but it does not show that nearly half those hits were made after easy chances had been given to retire the side. Nor does it show the fly which Hogriever lost in the sun or the one which Connor misjudged so horribly and which had to go as a two-bagger, or the scratch bound over Stewart's head which is recorded as a hit. Hansen had his troubles in the way of hard luck Tuesday, and Monroe's dose yesterday was equally as tough, if not more so.

The Chicagos earned but one run, and that should have been an out, for it was Decker's fly which Connor misjudged in the second
